Restaurant Association certification

Why attend?

Even if you already provide food safety training, ServSafe® is an update on current food safety regulations and procedures. You will be able to become certified in a nationally recognized program from the National Restaurant Association.

You will receive:

Seven hours of food safety training
ServSafe® Essentials manual
Opportunity to earn National Restaurant
Association Certification
Program materials to train your food handlers
Food safety resources to use in establishment
Lunch and refreshment breaks

If you have a disability needing accommodation or have special dietary needs, call 970-332-4151 at least 1 week prior to class.

Training Schedule
