Considering New Projects for 2024?

4-H members are encouraged to branch out and try different projects. Remember, 4-H has a lot more to offer than just livestock projects! Please take the time to review the new state 4-H project list. If you have questions about any of the projects, please call your 4-H Agent to get the project requirements. For new members who are selecting projects, please ask questions about the project! Sometimes a project that sounds simple enough may have very involved project guidelines. Many of the projects require more time than just the week before fair! Again, everyone is invited to contact the local Extension Office for more details about any new project being considered. That simple step will help reduce any “pre-fair stress!” For the most current list of state 4-H projects please either contact your Extension Office or visit the state 4-H website at www.colorado4h.org.

Proper Grooming Starts Now

Scott Stinnett, Area Extension Agent, 4-H Youth Development / Livestock

Every year at the county fair, youth livestock exhibitors and parents begin looking around at the grooming and fitting of other youth’s animals. Sometimes this sparks a competitive urge and youth start wanting to become better at grooming and fitting. The secrets to great grooming? Genetics, nutrition, and practice.

Genetics can determine how much hair or wool there could be to work with. Proper nutrition ensures all the nutrients needed for the genetics to work are present in the animal’s diet. Practice builds skills to make grooming and fitting of what the animal’s genetic and nutrition has produced, to be at its best. If you want to get better, go to a grooming clinic. Ask another youth who has great grooming for help. As an adult 4-H leader, Extension Agent, FFA Advisor or livestock breeder for hints and help. But start early.

Grooming cannot be learned on show day. You will make mistakes as you learn, and your skills will improve. Even the most experienced livestock groomers still make mistakes. They have just learned how to correct or cover up those minor mistakes. So grab the grooming supplies and try. Remember, you fell down the first time you walked. Just keep trying.

OPPORTUNITIES AND ACTIVITIES

Becoming a 4-H Family

With the start of the new 4-H, families will begin to discuss joining 4-H and what the roles and Responsibilities are for parents and youth. One key suggestion for all new families to remember is to make sure to ask lots of questions! Parents are vital to a successful 4-H club and to the success of their child in the program. Here are a few ways parents can help their child:

- Enroll in 4-H
- Select one or more 4-H projects to participate in
- Attend 4-H club meetings
- Determine club and county 4-H requirements
- Help your child complete any 4-H responsibilities he or she may have volunteered for, been elected to or selected for
- Support your child's 4-H work.

Parents can support their child's 4-H project in many ways. For the 4-H members who have regular project meetings, parents will need to make sure the 4-H member attends the meetings. Parents can help gather any materials the child will need and arrange transportation to and from the meetings. If there is no project leader, parents will be asked to help their child with the project. The head club leader or Extension Office may be able to locate a knowledgeable individual who can help complete the project. 4-H members will need to become familiar with their project materials and may need to complete various activities to complete the project. 4-H members will also need parental support and guidance when completing exhibits and record books for county fair.

While becoming involved in 4-H may be a big commitment, the benefits for both the 4-H member and parent are numerous. As a 4-H parent, you will get the opportunity of helping your child learn and grow. You'll share many wonderful experiences, which will improve your relationship with your child. 4-H parents get the privilege of watching their child mature with confidence and success. Parents also benefit by feeling that they are contributing to the youth in the community.

Many 4-H parents worry about the time commitment of 4-H. While 4-H does take time, here is a simple breakdown of the time you can expect to commit to 4-H. The 4-H year runs October 1-September 30. 4-H is a year-long commitment. Most months (but not all) will have a club meeting. Meetings typically last 30 minutes to 1 ½ hours. Depending on the project(s) that your child enrolls in, you can plan on 1-3 hours per week of project work. Keep in mind that most projects are not year-round commitments. The exception to this is typically livestock and animal projects.

There is always help available for new and "seasoned" 4-H parents. If you encounter questions or concerns during the 4-H year, consider asking the following individuals for help: the head 4-H club leader, 4-H project leader, other experienced 4-H parents, other families who are enrolled in the same projects and the Extension Office staff.

4-H Livestock Judging

Have you ever wondered what the judges were looking for as you watched a livestock show? Would you like to make better decisions when selecting your 4-H livestock project animal? 4-H Livestock Judging is an exciting way to learn more about livestock selection and improve your public speaking and reasoning skills while having fun and meeting new friends.

“My experiences in 4-H Livestock Judging changed me as a person and brought me out of my shell,” said Ben Cooley, associate professor of animal science and livestock judging coach at Northeastern Junior College.

“I was a quiet young man, and the experiences gave me an opportunity to learn to speak in front of people. I gained confidence as well.”

During a contest youth place several classes of four head of livestock including beef, sheep, swine, and goats. They are placed on their value using their conformation and genetic profile. Each contestant individually analyzes the animals and decides how they think they should be placed and then marks their card accordingly.

Following the placing of the classes the youth give oral reasons for their placing to a judge. There are 3-6 reason classes for each contest.

Colorado has 8-12 contests in which youth participate, culminating with the state livestock judging contest at Colorado State University in late June. The top three winning teams from the state contest are awarded the opportunity to travel to national contests in Denver, CO, Kansas City or Louisville, KY.

Livestock judging members improve their analytical, reasoning, speaking and communication skills, all of which are valuable tools they can use throughout their entire life. At contests and work-outs, members meet and make new friends they will keep for a lifetime.

“Livestock Judging gave me opportunities that I would not have otherwise had,” said Molly Witzel, former Kit Carson County livestock judging team member. “It taught me to express my opinion in a positive way and offered me a chance to develop leadership skills that I have used many times since.”

Colorado has one of the stronger youth livestock judging programs in the nation. Colorado youth are recruited by college livestock judging coaches across the western United States, with many receiving scholarships to assist in their education costs.

Livestock judging practices will be starting in your county soon. If you are interested, please contact your local Extension Office for more information.

Horse Judging and Horse Bowl

Horse Judging is similar to livestock judging except it is only horses. During a contest, youth place several classes of four head of horses in either a halter or performance class. They are placed on their value using their conformation or performance of the discipline. Individually, each contestant analyzes the horses and decides how he or she thinks they should be placed and then marks their card accordingly. Following the placing of the classes the youth then give oral reasons for their placing to a reasons taker. There are 2-4 reason classes for each contest. Colorado has several contests in which youth participate, culminating with the state horse judging contest at Colorado State University in late June during State 4-H Conference. The top three winning teams from the state contest are awarded the opportunity to travel to national contest.

Horse judging members improve their analytical, reasoning, speaking and communication skills, all of which are valuable tools they can use throughout their entire life. At contests and workouts, members meet and make new friends they will keep for a lifetime.

Colorado has one of the stronger youth horse judging programs in the nation. Colorado youth are recruited by college horse judging coaches across the western United States, with many receiving scholarships to assist in their education costs.

Horse Bowl is a quiz bowl style competition of equine knowledge. Contestants participate as a team of 4 or 5 and will answer questions as individuals and as a team. Questions will be asked one-on-one and as toss ups. Contestants should be knowledgeable in all aspects of equine production including breeds, anatomy, nutrition, training, health care, management, and tack and equipment. Colorado has several contests in which youth participate, culminating with the state horse bowl contest at Colorado State University in late June during State 4-H Conference. The top winning team from the state contest are awarded the opportunity to compete at the national contest during National Western Stock Show.

Those interested in participating in Livestock Judging, Horse Judging, and Horse Bowl, can contact their local Extension Office for its organizational meeting dates and times.

Western Heritage Project

The 4-H Western Heritage Project combines a comprehensive study of the Old West with the fastest growing shooting sports discipline in the world – western action shooting. The purpose of this project is to provide an avenue for 4-H members and adult leaders to experience the lifestyles and cultures of the Old West from the period of around 1860- 1900 through a living history approach to learning while instilling the concepts of gun safety and personal responsibility. Members dress in Old West clothing, shoot replica firearms of the frontier period, and expand their knowledge of U.S. history.

Educational Impacts of the 4-H Western Heritage Project Include:

- Connecting today's youth with the values and traditions of our past
- Preserving and gaining an appreciation for the heritage of the Old West in the time period of 1860-1900
- Instilling an investigative interest in American Frontier history leading to personal research and increased knowledge of the Old West
- Recognizing the accomplishments and importance of both men and women from a variety of cultures and races that contributed to the history of the Old West
- Enhancing learning by participation in living-history using historically accurate, firearms, clothing, and accessories
- Encouraging visits to local, state, regional, and national museums

4-H Shooting Sports Outcomes Include:

- Learning and applying the fundamentals of the safe handling of firearms
- Placing life-skill development over competition
- Providing an enjoyable and action-oriented shooting sports activity that attracts and retains 4-H members and their families.
- Promote 4-H Cowboy Action Shooting and historical study to 4-H programs across the nation
- Each year culminates in a championship event where 4-H members shoot for the fastest time, take a history exam, and have their clothing knowledge assessed. It's not always the fastest shooter who wins.

This project is now active in Montana, Missouri, Texas, Oregon, Kansas, and Oklahoma with more states requesting training each year. Check out the website at

As we get information on LDC, Youth Fest, State conference and CWF, we will pass it along. We will share it with Club Leaders and through social media and on the KCC 4-H webpage. If you have questions, please contact Scott or McKayla at the Extension office.

Blue Ribbon Livestock Blog

Are you new to livestock projects? Not new, but need some advice or suggestions? Check out the Blue Ribbon Livestock Blog. It is written by Scott and other Extension Agents from Colorado. The information is practical and hopefully helpful for your large animal livestock projects.

Livestock & Horse Judging / Quiz Bowl Contests / FCS Contests

Keep a watch in the newsletter and Facebook for information and dates. If you have other questions, contact Scott or McKayla at the Extension Office.

Shooting Sports Leader Meeting

Any adult shooting sports leader or adult 4-H volunteer interested in shooting sports is invited to attend the Shooting Sports Leader Meeting. This is a planning meeting and the more input the better we can meet the needs of our 4-H'ers in shooting sports. The meeting will be on Tuesday, November 14th at 6:00 PM in the Extension Office. Watch for reminders to be made in your club meetings or on our Facebook page.

4-H Youth and Volunteer Enrollments

4-H Members: Enrollment forms for the 2023-2024 4-H year are available now and are due to the Extension office by 5:00 p.m. by the deadline of Monday, January 15th. (Club leaders will have everything at your November club meeting.)

Please remember to complete both sides of the enrollment form -- in addition to the signed completion agreement. Re-enrollments received after the deadline will be assessed a $10-per-member late fee. (The late fee does NOT apply to leaders or new members.) Keep in mind, you do not have to wait until the January deadline to return your enrollment paperwork.

Many of the manuals have transitioned to being on-line instead of a printed hard copy. If you want a printed copy of a project manual, be sure and mark 'YES' on your enrollment form. We will either order one or will print one if it is one of those only available on-line. (See the price list attached to the project list handed out with enrollments.) Each club will be billed for books, member and family fees. Books will be ordered as soon as payment is received from the club.

Volunteers: Re-enrolling volunteers need to have their paperwork in by January 15th. New 4-H volunteers need to complete the background check as before and must also complete the Colorado 4-H Volunteer Orientation. This orientation is available online. Information will be available with enrollment paperwork.

Main Leaders: Please provide the Extension office with the contact information of any new families who are joining your club, so they may be included when sending out newsletters and other information this fall. (You do not have to wait until you receive their project enrollment paperwork.)

Clubs will not be billed for enrollment fees or family fees this year as those will be paid by the KCC 4-H Council. Clubs will still be billed for any literature ordered.

Online Enrollment Option: 4-H members and volunteers have the option to complete their enrollment through the 4-H Online system. If you decide to enroll online, you must fill out, sign and return the completion agreement to the office by the enrollment deadline of January 15th. Your online enrollment will not be activated until this form is received in the office.

If you were enrolled in 4-H in 2022-2023, DO NOT re-enter your personal information to prevent duplicate records -- it should already be online.

2023-2024 4-H Projects

When you pick up your enrollment packet, you may have questions about the various projects. Go to the Kit Carson County 4-H webpage and look at the Project Selection Guide that Jean has put together, or your club leader has a copy available. You can also request to borrow a copy of a project manual to see what is involved in completing the project.

Shooting Sports Project Policy: All youth participating in shooting sports and their parent/guardians, must read and sign this form to be able to participate in shooting sports.

Project Workshops and Clinic

If you need help with a new project, want to explore other projects or would like to help others with a project area, we are looking for volunteers and 4-H members to help teach project workshops and clinics. Contact the Extension office with your learning needs or what you would like to teach to others. Let's share what we know!

2024 KCC Fair Junior Superintendents

Duties of this very important volunteer position can vary from helping with livestock weigh-ins and shows to checking in and organizing exhibits.

Junior superintendents who participate during this busy week will receive a free rodeo armband and a thank you gift donated by generous members of the local community.

All positions will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Call the Extension office at 346-5571 or email McKayla or Scott to sign up for your first-choice project area.

Please DO NOT sign up to be a livestock superintendent of a species you will be showing.

Just A Reminder

All 4-H Members are required to do at least one community service project and at least one project demonstration/speech. Now is a great time to sit down as a club and start planning out these activities. While you are at it, take time to plan out yearly meetings, fundraisers, and club tours. Having a schedule ready in advance makes it easier for everyone to plan. Once you’ve set these dates, share them with our office so we can help promote them.

The add/drop deadline for Yuma County 4-H will be May 1, 2024. Please mark this date on your calendar so you will be enrolled in all your correct projects by April 30. There will be no project changes that can be made after this date.
